Pine Hill Lakes saga may be solved

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

Homeowners of Pine Hill Lakes can rest easy now that a developer has been hired to complete public improvements of the development.

United Developments, which currently has two developments, one in Vernon Hill, has been employed by NBD Bank of Evanston to come to the aid of Pine Hill Lakes development.

For quite some time now, homeowners have been complaining about cracking foundations, sinking homes, lack of street lights, sewer problems, etc.

According to Village Adm. Tim Wells has indicated that there is a 99 percent chance United Developments may even complete the whole development project of Pine Hill Lakes.

Even though this comes as good news to the homeowners within the development, residents are still having some reservations. "We want to see actual work. We don't trust any institution's word. We have been coming here for years, but we have yet to see anyone out at our home," a Pine Hill Lakes spokesperson commented.

NBD of Evanston stated in a letter to the village that work should begin within the next week. The bank is presently filing forclosure proceedings against Northfield Development, the original developer.

So far the bank has kept its word. Two weeks ago, when the village agreed to issue building permits to a new developer only once the subdivision was brought up to date, the bank had said it was going to foreclose on Northfield, and would honor repair work to begin within the development in 8-12 weeks by hiring a new developer.

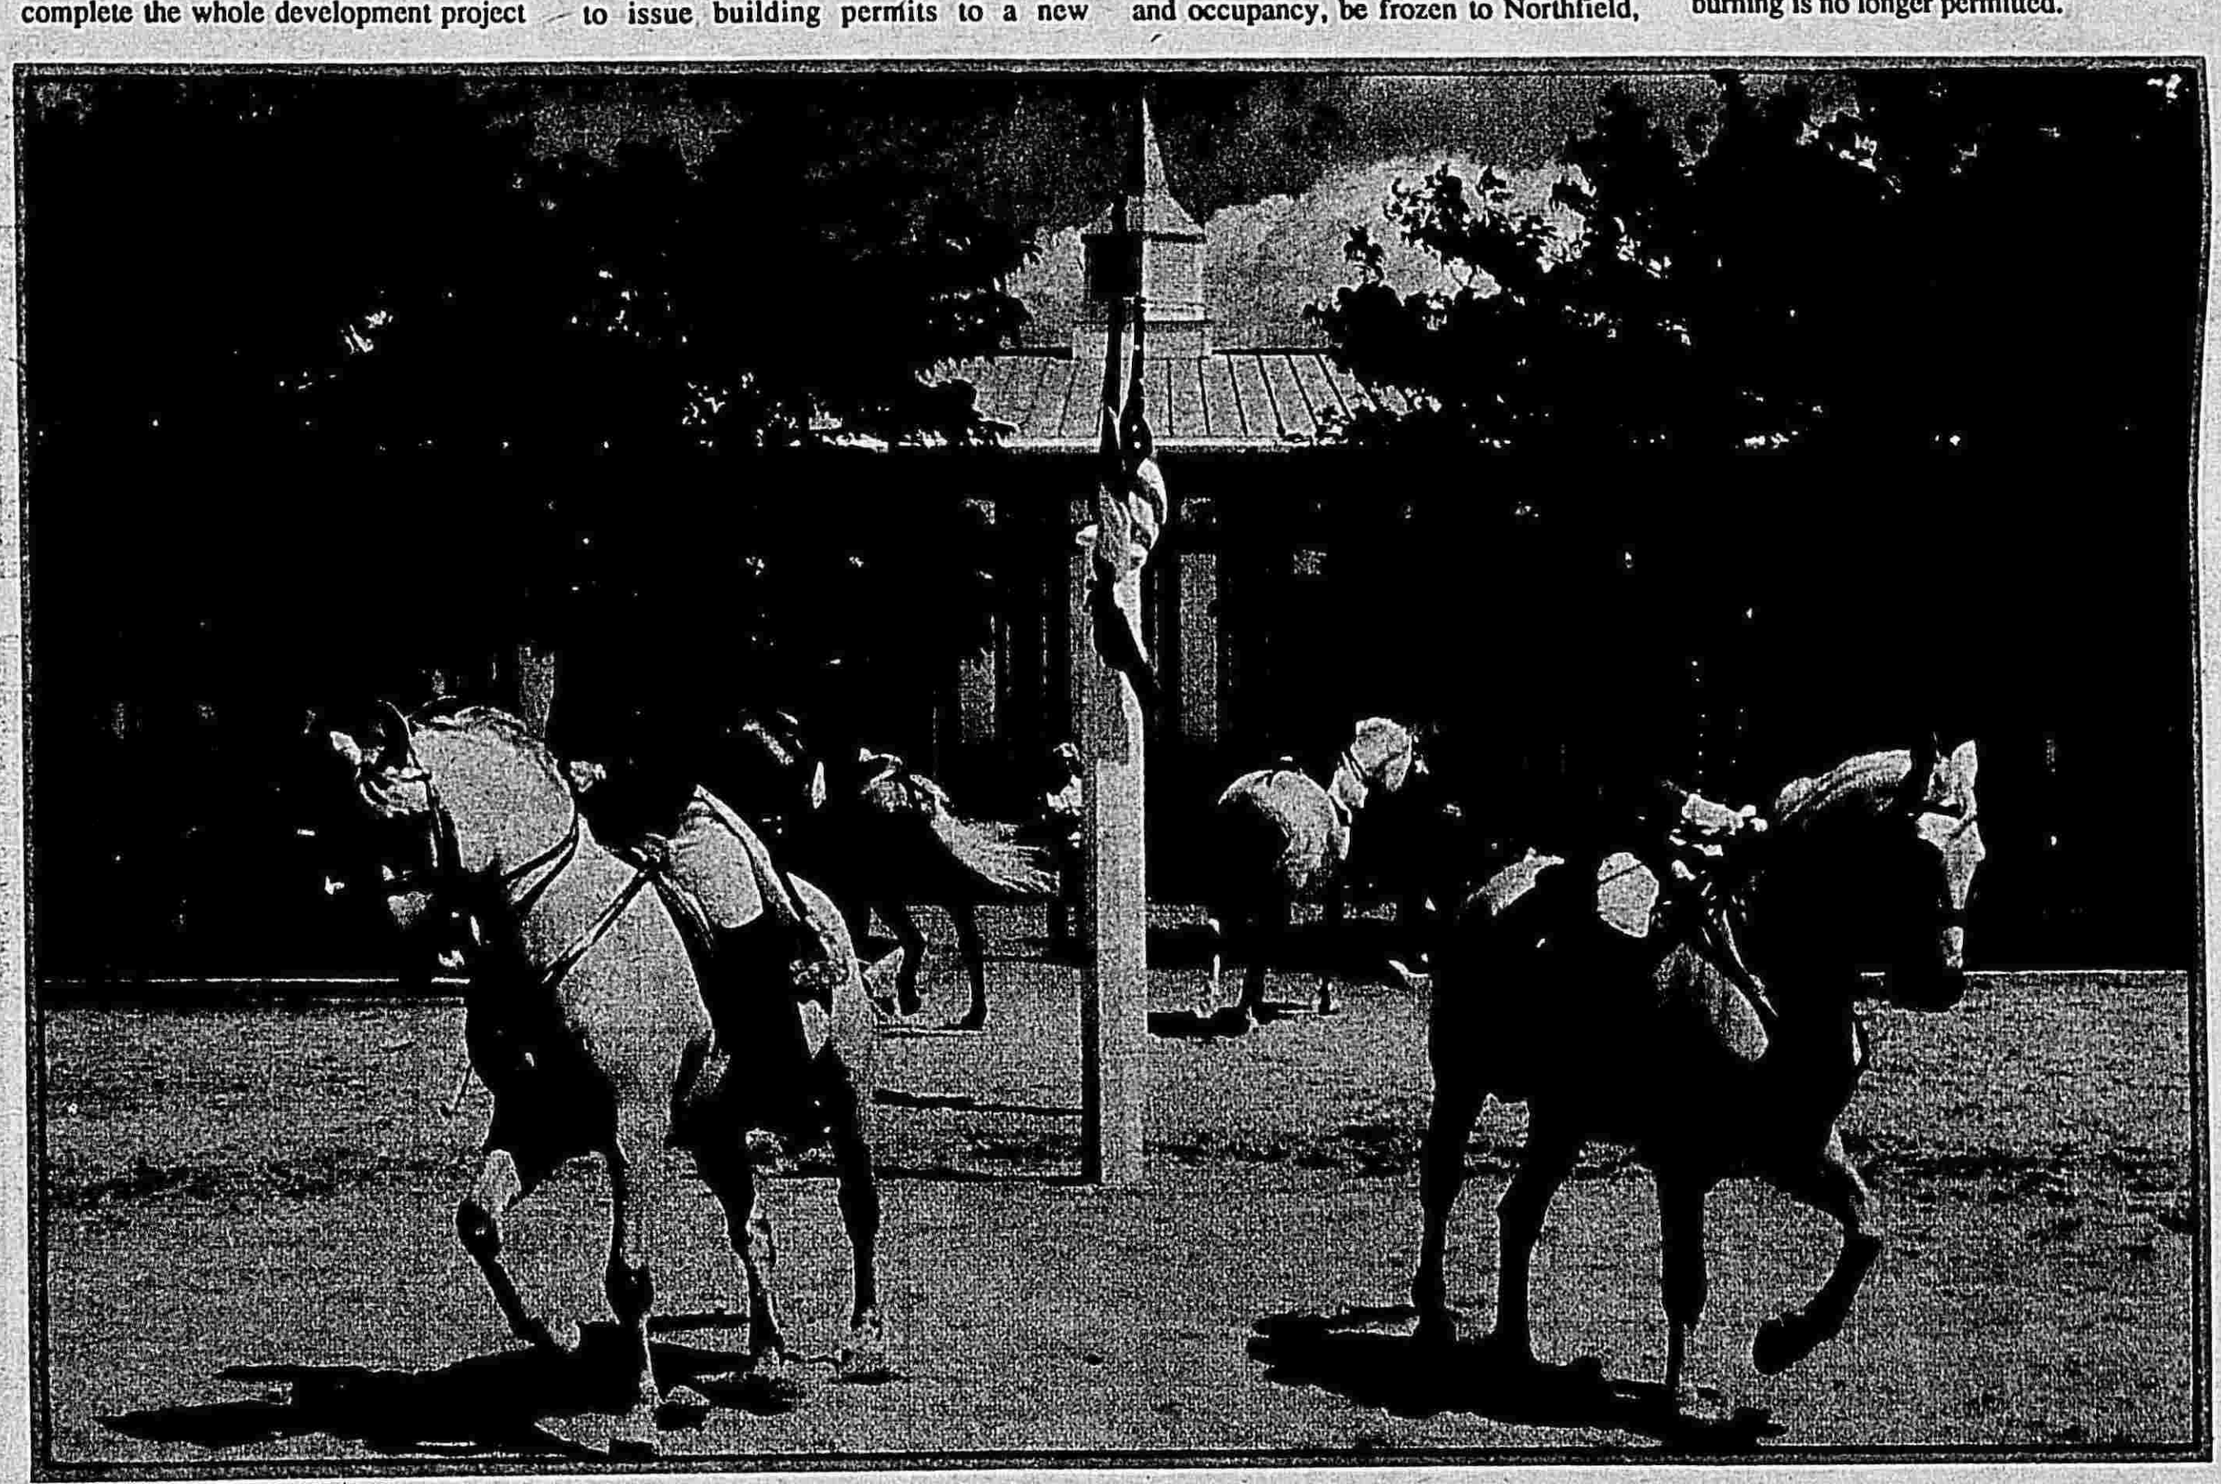

The village recently adopted a resolution against Northfield Developers to aid in implementing immediate results within the development.

The resolution, which was endorsed by 40 Pine Hill Lakes homeowners, called for the village to take possession of Northfield's money covered by the development bond, that improvement tasks be completed by a given date, that bids are solicited and the builder award those bids, and that all permits, building and occupancy, be frozen to Northfield, but open to a new developer, only after the much needed public improvements were completed.

Seeking waste hauler

The Antioch Village Board has employed a garbage committee to look into hiring a waste hauling company to pick up residents' yard waste within the village.

If a waste hauler is chosen the village would then adopt a yard waste ordinance. Each individual homeowner would be responsible for paying for their waste disposal, which would be billed by the waste hauler. A solution to the problem of yard waste disposal is needed since leaf burning is no longer permitted.

Delightful Lipizzans

The world famous Lipizzans continue to delight crowds at Tempel Farms in Wadsworth. For over 30 years, the Tempel Lipizzans have been preserving the 400 year-old tradition of the Spanish Riding School of Vienna, Austria, in Lake County. They perform two shows a week, and although the horses' season ends on Aug. 29, one last big show will be held on Aug. 14-19. The brightest and best of North America's young equestrians will compete for the gold in a premier international-level competition. See related story in Weekend.

Ship life demanding; competition for jobs

by BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

How many young men would gladly accept a demanding job where you are required to work 14 hour days, seven days a week?

Who's kidding?

The job is real. Openings are for sailors in the U.S Navy.

On a short cruise out into Lake Michigan, this reporter watched committed young Americans aboard the USS Fahrion, a speedy frigate armed with guided missles, happily performing their duties.

Crewmen aboard the Fahrion, which served in the Persian Gulf during hostalities two years ago, alternate seven hour shifts with five hours off.

During the Lake Michigan junket, a summer public relations ecursion for the Fahrion, which normally is based in Charleston, N.C., we watched the crew averaging 20 years of age performing all the tasks necessary to keep a modern warship combat-ready.

The young helmsman was steering the ship with fingertip control of a wheel the size of a mustard jar cover, not a back-breaking task, but one demanding concentration and alertness, not to mention extensive training and experience.

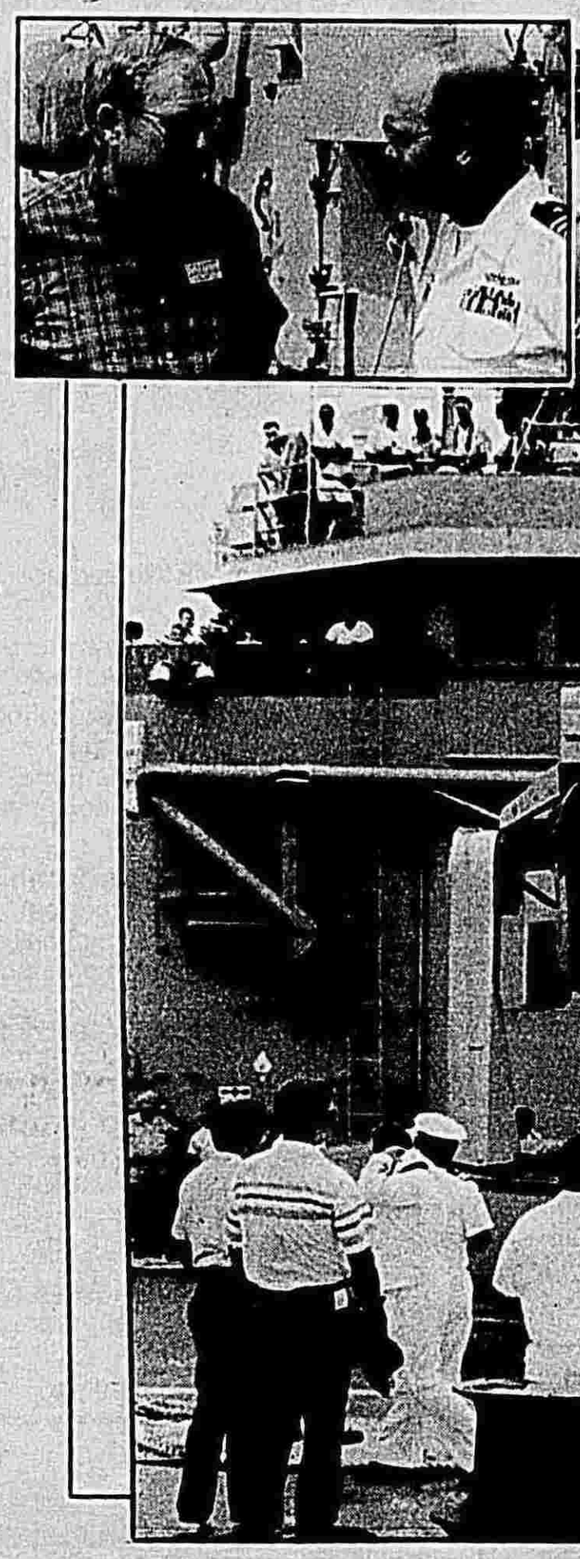

The Combat information center was a fascinating maze of television consoles and computer indicators. Guns are fired and missiles launched by two sailors seated before an electronic information computer screen. Only the ship's captain and the fire control officer can actually unleash the Fahrion's inmpressive arsenal.

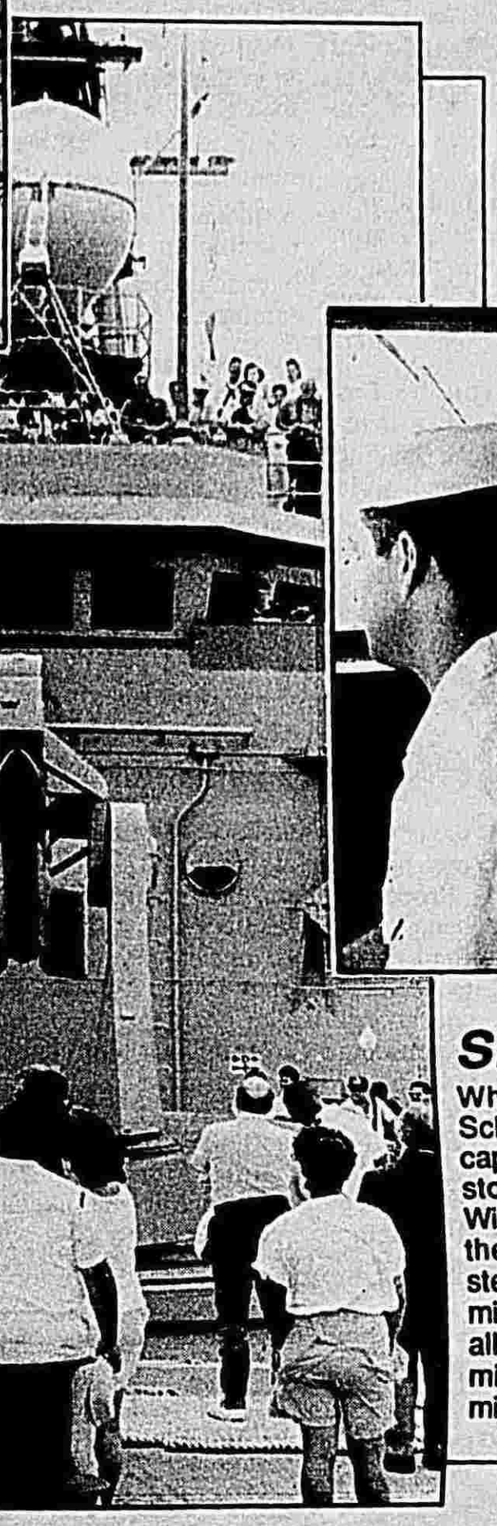

In charge of the Fahrion's engine room was a young chief petty officer whose youthful looks belied his training and respect shown by crew members who probably only four or five years younger but light years apart in experience. The Fahrion is powered by a pair of gas turbine engines that propel the 445 foot long ship at better than 30 knots.

Sleeping and eating take up most of the off-duty time for crewmen. For diversion there's television, reading, basketball on the helicopter deck, a workout room and study. Plenty of study time is spent to prepare for advanced rating. Cmdr. K.J. Tackett, captain of the eight-year-old vessel, reported proudly that one of his crewmen has been nominated for the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis. Without a doubt, the modern U.S. Navy places a high priority on intelligence.

On a small ship like the Fahrion, work requirements are more demanding, but the pay is the same. With two years of experience, a three class petty officer rating with all needs provided, has $945 paycheck per month for descretionary spending. That's life on the high seas.

With the present policy for downsizing the military, jobs like these are going to be harder to get.

Shipboard life

While Publisher/President William H. Schroeder chats with Cmdr. K.J. Tackett, captain of the USS Fahrion during Navy Pier stop on goodwill cruise of Great Lakes, William M. Schroeder, operations manager of the newspaper group observes helmsman steering ship with fingertip control. Guided missile 'at the ready' depicts what Fahrion is all about—a highly mobile launching pad for missiles that can travel more than 500 miles.—Staff photos

COLLEGE OF LAKE COUNTY

It's official! Foreman is new U.S. attorney

One of Lake County's own, Fred Foreman, officially is the new U.S. attorney for Northern Illinois. He was confirmed by the U.S. Senate early Saturday morning to cap a five-month confirmation process for one of the top legal jobs in this part of the state.

Foreman, a native of Gurnee who lives in Warren Twp., was elected to his third four-year term as Lake County state's attorney two years ago. He has recommended the remainder of his term be filled by Deputy State's Atty. Michael Waller. He has been Foreman's chief assistant since 1986. The appointment must be made by the Lake County Board. The job will be on the 1992 election ballot.

In his new federal job, Foreman succeeds Anton Valukas. This is the same post held by Jim Thompson before he became governor of Illinois.

Foreman will be formally installed at a ceremony in the federal building by a federal judge. He hopes this will occur prior to his 42nd birthday on Aug. 22.

Between now and then Foreman has scheduled meetings with other attorneys in the office and aides to U.S. Atty. General Dick Thornburgh. Foreman wants to cram as much information and data as possible in order to take over immediately upon assuming his new office.

Foreman was selected for his new job by the Illinois Senate and congressional delegation in March. Following that he has undergone a series of background checks leading up to his confirmation by the Senate last week.

Firemen, police to vie at LHS competition

The public is invited to cheer local fire and police departments when teams of Lake County firemen and police officers challenge each other on an obstacle course during the Sixth Annual Public Safety Fitness Competition.

The event is set for 8 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 11 at the track and field complex of Libertyville High School.

Condell Medical Center of Libertyville sponsors the event in cooperation with TEK Ambulance of Libertyville.

The top three teams will receive trophies and awards with honors also being presented to individual team members with the best individual overall performances in each age and class.

Proceeds from the competition will benefit the Jac Bellis Fund, a scholarship fund established in memory of the late Condell Emergency Dept. physician. This educational fund assists young people who are pusuing a career in the health field and associated with Penwasciz, a health careers program at Condell.

Teams from the Lake County Sheriff's Police, Vernon Hills, Mundelein, Zion Police Depts., Libertyville, Waukegan, Mundelein and Wheeling Fire Dept. will compete.

Mayor Wilton and Chief Miller at it again

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

Just when the feud appeared to be settled between the mayor and the police chief, they are at it again.

Two weeks ago after a 5-1 vote, in which Trustee Larry Hanson objected and Mayor Robert Wilton abstained, the village accepted Police Chief Charles Miller's lawsuit settlement.

The suit had been filed by Chief Miller against the village board and the mayor for the action taken by Trustees Ed Koziorowski and Larry Hanson, and Mayor Wilton on June 25, which sought to remove Miller from his position.

However, in court Monday, the judge did not enter the order for settlement, because Mayor Wilton's attorney, Howard Tiegan, objected to the agreement.

The settlement the village board agreed to accept called for the village records to show that Miller is the lawfully appointed police chief and the action taken against him was done without a quorum. Also, the records would reflect Miller as having served continuously from May 1 1978 to present.

With the acceptance of the agreement, Miller would continue to hold his position within the village until he resigns or is terminated from the position by a majority vote of the village board. He would conduct his duties as police chief without any interference from the board.

The village was also required under the settlement to pay a monetary settlement of $2,500 to cover Chief Miller's attorney fees and any court costs that have been acquired up to this point.

According to the Village Atty. Kenneth Clark, the village board is being sued in a corporate capacity and the mayor is also being sued as an individual. At the village board meeting, Clark said, "Because of the number of defendants involved on the corporate level, if the mayor, or anyone, objects, the court can not except the order of agreement even though the board agreed to accept the settlement."

Trustee Marilyn Shineflug questioned, "Why isn't this over? We voted to accept the settlement. His role of mayor shouldn't go into the corporate suit." A citizen of Antioch also asked, "What is the purpose of the trustees if the mayor can do this?"

Clark replied, "Just as Chief Miller has rights, so does the mayor and the trustees, that is why the judge didn't enter the order. It is not an agreed order if one objects."

Mayor Wilton said he is objecting because of the loose wording in paragraph four of the settlement, which does not specifically spell out the exact duties of the police chief. He said, "Under state statute, I am the chief executive of the village and Miller is trying undermine my powers."

Chief Miller's attorney, Charles Smith, was outraged that this fester wound had been reopened. He said, "No one communicated to me before court that there was a problem with the order. This is just a sneak attack to slip out Miller as police chief."

Trustee Donald Amundsen said he thought the mayor's attorney objecting to the agreed settlement was a mistake. However, he said, "Let's not attack a man's rights. The mayor has the right to exercise his individual rights."

The village was informed back in June that an investigation on Chief Miller was being conducted by the Ill. Dept. of Criminal Investigation, for missing confiscated weapons within the police department. Up until this point, no reports of the investigation have been released to the public.

According to attorney Smith, the state's attorney's office informed him that they have not found any grounds, while investigating, to file any criminal charges against the chief. "This man is entitled to his reputation of 23 years on the police force. To insinuate he has done something illegal and immoral, is an illegal and immoral act itself. He will never be able to pick up all the feathers that were blown," Smith said.

Mayor Wilton said, "How do we know this is true. We have not seen a copy of the report on the investigation. I haven't heard anything from the state's attorney's office." The mayor said he will be requesting a copy of the report from the state's attorney's office soon, so the public will be properly informed on the results of the investigation.

Chief Deputy of the Stat'es Attorney's Office, Mike Waller said he contacted last week and told him that Joe Collina, head of investigations, completed the investigation and concluded, "no criminal wrong doing was being done by Chief Miller or any other person in the police department."

"This whole matter is just a personality conflict. Countless hundreds of hours are being spent on a personal vendetta and a ridiculous investigation," Atty. Smith said.

At this point, this whole ordeal will again be brought to the courts this Wednesday. Miller's attorney said he is going to question whether Mayor Wilton has the right to stop this settlement and will see what action can be taken next. He believes Wilton has the right to hire an attorney for himself in the individual suit. The legal question Smith is asking is whether or not Wilton has the right as mayor to hire an attorney to represent him at the corporate capacity without the village board's approval. Based upon the judge's decisions, this matter could be resolved later this week or could continue until the preliminary hearing on Aug. 23. Smith said attorneys will start with full blown depositions and a full trial if this matter isn't resolved.

'The police chief deserves better than what he is getting. I will try to put an end to this suit if the village board allows me to do so. But if the board wants a fight, we'll have a fight.'—Charles Smith, Chief Miller's attorney.

"The police chief deserves better than what he is getting. I will try to put an end to this suit if the village board allows me to do so. But if the board wants a fight, we'll have a fight," Smith said.

Currently the mayor is paying his attorney fees, but if a trial proceeds village representation will probably come out of village funds. Several trustees expressed their outrage that the village will be wasting more taxpayers' money. Shineflug said, "The mayor should be responsible for the additional legal fees since he is the one who is protracting."

Antioch adopts harshest fire ordinance in state

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch officials have adopted harshest smoke detector ordinance in the state of Illinois.

Public Safety Inspector Lee Shannon has devised the ordinance to update smoke detector requirements in residential dwellings and businesses.

"We are taking the grey area out of the state law and are providing more protection throughout every building," Shannon said.

Illinois state statute requires every residence to have a smoke detector, but doesn't specifically spell out any maintenance requirements. The objective of this ordinance is to insure proper maintenance of smoke detectors and monitored alarm systems.

"We are attempting to save more lives at minimal dollar losses," Shannon said.

The ordinance requires multiple family residential buildings of three or more apartments and buildings that house transient occupants, to install electrical smoke detectors, with battery backup within each unit. These devices must be approved by Underwriter Laboratories.

'If I can save one life with this ordinance, it has paid for itself.'—Lee Shannon, Antioch public safety inspector.

The tenants of each apartment will be responsible for insuring that the smoke detectors work properly by conducting monthly checks and replacing the batteries yearly or more often if warranted. Residents of single family homes will be required to follow the same regulations. If the occupants do not maintain their smoke detectors the landlord or homeowner will be required to handwire the detector into the electrical system.

All common areas within the building, which are areas of public access, must have smoke detectors that connect into a monitored alarm system that will immediately dispatch the fire department upon receipt of the alarm, which must be approved by the fire department or public safety inspector. Such areas include attics, hallways, stairwells, laundry rooms, storage areas, etc. This is also required of buildings that house occupants less than 30 days, such as a motel and hotel.

Shannon said if residents of the building are all at work and a fire breaks out within one of the apartments, no one will be there to notify the fire department when the smoke detector's alarm sounds. However, once the smoke from the apartment seeps out into the hallway, the monitored alarm system will be triggered and the fire department will be able to respond.

"The fire department may not be able to save the apartment, but at least we can save the building. The ordinance will give us the earliest warning to protect the people," he said.

The landlord of the building may choose to go another route and have the individual smoke detectors within each apartment connected to the fire alarm system.

New single family homes, including townhouses and condos, will be inspected before the occupants move in to detect proper installation and operation of smoke detectors by the public safety inspector.

All new single family homes will be required to have smoke detectors handwired into the electrical system and must include battery back-up on all levels of the house as well.

Residents of single family homes and apartments must have the smoke detector units placed within 15 feet of the sleeping area.

Installation of the alarm system in any type of home or building should be conducted by a certified security electrician. Shannon recommends that the alarm systems in homes and buildings, especially buildings with any type of an automatic fire suppression system, including a sprinkler system, hood and duct system, chemical suppression systems and automatic ejections systems, be monitored at the fire/police dispatch center. An alternative monitoring center can be used with the approval of the fire and safety inspector.

Currently, Fox Lake and Grayslake have asked for copies of the ordinance for possible future acceptance.

"If I can save one life with this ordinance, it has paid for itself," Shannon said.

Garage Sales

I know I am constantly expounding on the virtues of garage sales. So what else is new? I want to thank Marie Kelly for the terrific bargain on the patio chairs. The price was right in the beginning, but my husband and I still bargained further and Marie lowered her price even more. Thanks, Marie, and boy do they look nice on my deck.

While at Marie's house, I had the pleasant opportunity of chatting with Pat Lepsi. Pat wanted to know what the new venture was that I said I was going to attempt this fall. However, I did not break under Pat's pressure. True to my word, I did not reveal my future undertaking until I have either succeeded or failed with it. So, Pat, keep reading "Hometown Goodies" till I confess all.

Lori Teaters and Cindy Marquart also showed up at the Kelly's sale while I was there bargaining for my treasurers. Cindy walked off with a crock pot that was also too goo to pass up. Yep, I love garage sales, and also love talking to all the nice people I meet.

Beachwood Fest

If you live in or near the town or township of Antioch, circle the date Aug. 12 on your calendar, and set it aside for a fun day. Let the grass and bushes grown and take off to enjoy the festivities of the Beachwood Blunt Subdivision Annual Summerfest. On Sunday, Aug. 12, drive your car down Grass Lake Rd. to Rena Ave. and take Rena to Richmond, turn left and you won't miss it. By boat it is located on Petite Lake.

The public is welcome to partake in the fun from noon to 8 p.m. There will be BBQ chicken dinners for sale and buttered corn on the cob. Games for children will be held from noon to 2 p.m. and bingo will be from 2 to 5 p.m. Side activities include horseshoes, volleyball, and a bake sale. There will be a live band from 5 to 8 p.m. So go on down and kick up your heels.

Did you ever to the "Chicken"? It is great. Ask the band to play it and I am sure someone in the crowd will show you how it is done. If I didn't have prior plans, I'd see you there. I would have been the one at the bingo table munching on chicken and corn on the cob. Since I won't be available you will all have to look for Davis Simpson. She too loves bingo, but instead of munching on chicken and corn, she'll be the one munching on the goodies from the bake sale as she has a "sweet" tooth. Have fun!

Dining Alone

As I sat alone one evening enjoying a tasty meal of fried chicken at Nolan's on the Lake, I came up with an idea I would like to share with restaurant owners everywhere. I think you should all keep a life-size inflatable doll on hand and when people come in to dine along, you should ask them if they'd like company at their table. If they say yes, then plop the doll down in the chair next to them. Did you ever notice how you can really get into enjoying a quiet solitary meal at home, but the same meal eaten alone in a restaurant seems to taste differently? Well maybe that is pushing it a bit. I guess the food tastes the same but you just feel kind of awkward sitting here all alone munching away like a vulture. Actually I had company when I originally sat down at the table. My son Jim (who did not want to eat) reluctantly agreed to keep me company. But as usual he was in a devilish mood and as he sat across the table from me hitting me with watered down pieces of his napkins, the prospect of dining along seemed to appeal to me, so I urged him on his way.

However, I wasn't alone, alone, for a long time as the Vogel family entered shortly after Jim left. I enjoyed chit chatting with Dawn about Emmons school, were she works. Dawn's two children, Matthew and Chris attend Grass Lake School and it was nice talking with Dawn, the boys, and her husband, David. Dawn mentioned they were trying Nolan's on my recommendation in this column. I hope you all enjoyed your meal and I am sure you have to agree the view from the window over looking Bluff Lake was very pretty and relaxing. Mary and Mike if you are reading this column, I do not really want you to plop an inflatable doll down next to me if I ever show up alone again. You see, I had to close with that statement, because knowing Mary she just may do it!

Baby Boom

Jeff and Ruth Dykiel are proud parents once again. On July 17, they were blessed with the birth of a beautiful baby girl named Nicole Marie. Nicole has two brothers more than willing to help spoil her and teach her the tricks of the trade, 10-year-old Andy and two-year-old Matthew. Naturally grandma and grandpa Chester and Alice Dykiel are very happy to have another grandchild. Robin and Tim Gwinn are also happy about the birth of their second baby girl. They already have one gorgeous daughter named Heidi. Last year Heidi was the little mascot of the Grass Lake School cheerleaders and attended many games and practices with mom who assisted Sharon Jones in the coaching of the cheerleaders. Congratulations, Robin, Tim, and Heidi on the newest addition to your happy family.

Congratulations

I'd like to personally congratulate Matt Tabar on receiving the superintendency at Emmons School. I recently had the opportunity to get to know Matt and once again it looks like Emmons is in good hands. Hope you are reading this, Matt, and please call me with special news items about Emmons School as they arise.

Good Bye

That is it. I am leaving now. Try to live without my words of wisdom (even though I know it is hard) till next week.

Water fights

Last weekend's fun at Lake Villa Days brought firemen from local communities to compete against each other in the water hose fights. The object is to see who can hose down the barrel to the opponent's side first. First place winner was Long Grove Fire Dept. Following in second place was Huntley Fire Dept., while Fox Lake Fire Dept. was third and Cary Fire Dept. fourth. Lake Villa Fire Dept. didn't place, but the firemen sure had fun competing.---Photo by Denise Strzalka

Lake County Sheriff's Dept. officials said the coroner's office has not determined yet if it was accidental, self-inflicted or homicidal death.

FACTS ABOUT BUNIONS

Both men and women can develop a bunion. A bunion is a swelling or enlargement of the large toe joint on the inner side of the foot. The deformity usually develops gradually and continues to develop until it will cause pain from shoes rubbing against the enlarged bone. There may be swelling, redness and a deep aching pain associated with the bunion joint causing a bursitis.

Bunions develop from a weakness in the bone structure of your foot. Because of the instability of the bones and ligaments which form various joints and arches in your foot, the joints have a tendency to move out of proper alignment. There is also a strong hereditary tendency to develop this deformity. Bunion deformities can be seen in very young children as well as the adult population. Bunions are not caused by improper shoe gear, but are significantly aggravated by improperly fitting shoes which place an unusual degree of pressure at the bunion joint. As the bunion becomes more severe, the joint moves out of proper alignment and eventually arthritis will damage the joint. Several treatment options are available which help in controlling the cause of the bunion deformity so that symptoms do not arise or become more severe. These include alteration of shoe gear, prescription orthotics.

If the bunion deformity becomes progressively worse, surgery may be recommended. If you are suffering from this condition, or have any further questions contact Dr. Lee M. Tisa for a NO COST CONSULTATION to discuss your treatment options.

Keep on looking

Members of the Lake County Stormwater Management Committee ought to keep looking in their quest for the new agency's first director, a $59,000 a year post that carries the heavy responsibility of spending millions of dollars in the coming years to control and prevent flooding.

There is strong evidence that the search committee stumbled badly in handing the job to Edward Geick, the controversial former village administrator of Lake Zurich. While many Lake Zurich residents would have preferred ushering Geick to the village limits last year amid a flurry of tar and feathers, gentility prevailed and a new administration adroitly negotiated the village an exit from a sweetheart deal Geick had wrung out of the former administration, saving the taxpayers a tidy sum to boot, even considering the published sum of $30,000.

There is reason to believe the severance could have been a whole lot more had not Geick's reputation been clouded with a sexual harrassment charge and his refusal to get in step with newly elected Mayor Jim Kay and other reform trustees put into office by electors seeking a more sensitive, responsive village board.

Often autocratic and increasingly distant from the people, Geick conducted Lake Zurich business with a heavy hand. Even his supporters breathed a sigh of relief when Geick left Lake Zurich. His departure brought a wave of fresh air to the village hall.

Speaking for the selection committee that plucked Geick out of a field of 22 applicants, Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton, chairman of the agency, displayed more than bit of stubbornness in the face of severe criticism of Geick's selection when he commented, "There are always two sides to every story. I am aware this man(Geick) has his critics."

It is difficult to believe that the committee came up with a clean bill on Geick, as Welton indicated. Apparently the screening committee didn't talk to Lake Zurich officials or the employes in the village hall who were under his control.

Considering the clouds of controversy swirling about Geick, the least the Stormwater Management Committee could do would be to withdraw the appointment until further study. Even at face value, the facts dictate that the committee go back to the drawing board in its search for a new director. The new agency has a much too important mission to allow itself to be sucked into an undertow of suspicion and controversy even before it opens for business. Citizens of Lake County deserve better.

Good luck, Fred

Fred L. Foreman, former Lake County state's attorney, is moving with cautious deliberation into his new post as U.S. attorney for northern Illinois. In his first contacts with the media, Foreman made clear that the headlines will come later. That's a sensible approach to handling a high profile public office.

Foreman isn't going to get any arguments with the pronouncement that a top priority will be drug prosecutions. The popular Lake County political leader skirted questions about dealing with political corruption cases and the long-standing probe into corruption in the Cook County court system.

We home folks are well aware of Foreman's long held desire to go as far as possible in public service. It's based on the goal of every school boy to strive for the highest office in the land. Call it part of the American dream. And we can watch with pride and admiration that Fred is making things happen. We only hope big city press moguls will give him the opportunity to do the difficult job of U.S. attorney before "moving" him on to higher office.

That will come in due time, just like his other achievements ever since he first gained recognition as a lanky sports star at Warren High School. Fred's friends and admirers wish him well.

Landfills have future use

Editor:

You mentioned looking for ways to use landfills. As a suggestion, an Amphi-theater, in a stepped up design, such as in a stadium, in a half round or half oval shape with a stage at the bottom.

Such a facility could be used for musical concerts, plays, civic gatherings of many other kinds. A further conservation could be accomplished by using land fill plastics to make into planks for seating. Also for finish grading, in place of new sand, grind up the glass on the site, back to the sand it came from.

Arts need help

Editor:

I write to thank you for your editorial "sad commentary" that appeared in Lakeland Newspapers. Not only do those of us at Liberty-Fremont appreciate the kind remarks about us, we are also grateful for your insight into the difficulties facing arts groups in Lake County.

The arts are alive, but their health could be improved. All is not well with them as is evidenced by the on-going efforts of the Lake County Arts Council to survey the requirements of the arts groups within the county.

Three years ago Liberty-Fremont was one of 57 fellow participants in the preliminary needs assessment sponsored by the arts council. A reputable Madison firm, Rediger Associates was hired to conduct the survey.

In the light of what is happening the findings are of interest today.

1. "Most groups must be limited in their development because of inadequate funding and lack of available performance and exhibition space."

2. "There is concern about a creeping stagnation: audiences are aging, production costs are increasing, better resources are needed to achieve a higher level of excellence. There also exists a community bias that the only good performances are happening in Chicago."

3. "In ranking factors in their primary performance facilities, participants gave 10 factors out of eleven ranks of poor to average. Only one factor (sight lines) received an excellent rating. Availability of facilities for use was ranked lowest."

Volleyball catching on

Editor:

Thanks for mentioning Catholic Alumni Club volleyball in you publications. We have had a great increase in new participants during the last few weeks. St. Edna's in Arlington Heights and St. John's in Johnsburg. This event is proving to be of interest to single young adults in your area.

The Catholic Alumni Club is a non-profit organization. No one in our group receives any income whatsoever from what they do for our club. Also, we do not charge any fee for playing outdoor volleyball.

It's Minnesota by a nose for hwy. neatness

by BILL SCHROEDER

I used to think that Illinois doesn't hold a candle to Wisconsin for roadside highway maintenance. For keeping road right-of-ways spic and span, Wisconsin is hard to beat.

But Minnesota noses out the Badger state, I discovered on a drive to Rochester, for keeping highways litter free. On a stretch of Interstate 90 between the Mississippi River and the turn off to Rochester, I didn't see a single gum wrapper or scrap of paper. Amazing. As an added bonus, there aren't any advertising signs until reaching the exit. I thought my tri-focals were playing tricks. The return trip confirmed Minnesota neatness.

The absense of litter and signs sure makes driving a more enjoyable experience.

BRIGHT SIDE---Even tragedy can have a bright side sometimes. Mrs. Glenn Jeziorski of Lindenhurst wrote to tell about how thoughtful four girls were to look after personal belongings when her daughter, 19 months, was bitten on the face by a dog during a trip to a nearby park. With the little girl bleeding profusely, Mrs. Jeziorski said she and her son, four, left in a hurry, leaving a stroller and toys behind.

On the way to the hospital, Mrs. Jeziorski said she noticed the girls toting the stroller and playthings back to the house. "We wish to publicly thank these young girls for their thoughtfulness. We're very proud to have them for neighbors," she stated. In the confusion of the mishap, Mrs. Jeziorski didn't get the names of the helpful girls.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

DEMOCRATIC DROPOUT—Unfortunately there will not be a race for state representative in the 62nd Dist. That's the domain of Robert Churchill, a fast-rising star in state Republican politics.

Atty. Henry Marquard of Lindenhurst was set to give him a run in the November election. Marquard and other disenchanted Republicans started organizing a Democratic campaign they promised would startle Churchill into reality.

One of the events was an invitation-only reception for 62nd Dist. Democratic precinct committeemen and party officers last Friday at Marquard's home. But no one showed.

Marquard and his committee agreed it is tough enough to run a campaign without lots of money like the GOP. It is even more difficult without the foot soldier committeemen.

So Marquard will announce next week he is withdrawing from the 62nd Dist. race.

But this is not the end of Henry Marquard. A bright, well-spoken activist in Lake Villa Twp., he's the kind of person who easily makes friends and news.

EXPENSIVE SNAFU—Burton Schindler is a $38-per-hour public relations consultant for the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.

Among other projects, he helped prepare a first-ever annual report for the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. Some 5,000 copies of the eight page, four-color glossy publication were printed in July at a cost of $3,800.

About the only person who liked it is Schindler.

District members found numerous grammatical and spelling errors, a commissioner's name and district were incorrectly identified and lakes identified on a district map weren't there.

Negotiations for a reprinting are underway.

Schindler says commissioners are nit picking. Oh yes, he says these things at the rate of $38 per hour.

How did this snafu occur? Commissioner Roberta "Bobbie" O'Reilly says the report looks like it was done by a committee.

COATTAIL MAN—Without his own campaign to worry about, Sheriff Clinton Grinnell has taken on another one.

It is for Greg Baise, Republican candidate for state treasurer. He's Baise's Lake County coordinator in the upcoming fall election.

Grinnell has been a fixture on the law enforcement scene in Lake County for 35-plus years, including 13 years as Libertyville chief of police prior to joining the sheriff's department.

Republican gubernatorial candidate Jim Edgar said he would like to ride Grinnell's coattails to victory in November. Baise, it appears, is going to do Edgar one better.

THEY'RE ANGRY—Residents in Gurnee and Warren Twp. are mad enough to fight. It's becoming a habit in an area where people are either for or against, hardly ever in the middle.

This time its over their garbage collection service.

No one had any complaints until last spring when both switched from Jensen Disposal of Mundelein to Waste Management Inc. Jensen is the David and Waste Management the Goliath in their business.

Residents don't like the cost or the service. Blamed are Warren Twp. Supv. Robert Depke and Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton.

If voters can remember that long and do as they say, both face big re-election trouble next year. Depke's opponent almost knocked him off as precinct committeeman last spring. Welton's foe is being recruited.

Lake County At A Glance

Senior exemption

LAKE COUNTY—Notices will be mailed within the next few weeks for senior citizens receiving Homestead Exemption. Any senior receiving this exemption may designate another person to receive a duplicate copy of any delinquent real estate property tax notice. This would aid in preventing the sale of their property for taxes because they overlooked the original notice in their mail or didn't understand the notice. The initial designation, or a change in the designee at a later date, will require a $5 fee to cover administrative cost. Seniors wishing to utilize this option should fill out the form and enclose a check made payable to the Lake County collector. Questions can be directed to the Lake County supervisor of assessments at (708) 360-6378.

Wilton vs. Miller

ANTIOCH—The saga continues as Mayor Robert Wilton and Police Chief Charles Miller are at it once again. The mayor's attorney rejected the chief's suit settlement earlier in court this week despite last week's motion by the village board to except. Now a full trial with full blown deposition could come into effect. The chief is suing the mayor and the village board for trying to remove him from his position as chief without probable cause and lack of quorum.

Recognition Day

LAKE COUNTY—The annual Senior Citizen Recognition Day will held Wednesday, Aug. 29 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Lakewood Forest Preserve. Once again, Waukegan Twp. will be furnishing transportation for seniors who want to attend the picnic through the Senior Citizen Services Committee. Buses will begin pick-up at 9 a.m. and will leave Lakewood at 5:30 p.m. For more information call (708) 244-4900.

Talk plaza plans

GURNEE—Gurnee Plan Commission members heard an outline for Huntington Plaza, a shopping center at Hunt Club Rd. and Washington St., at their last meeting. No decision was made on plans forwarded by the developer, Andros Development of Northbrook, as the hearing was continued until Sept. 5. Commissioners and residents did pose a number of questions to the developers, who hope to build on seven acres.

Eye tax bid

GAGES LAKE—Woodland Dist. 50 Board of Education members may consider options for the November election when the board meets on Aug. 13. The meeting will be at 7 p.m. in the district's administrative offices. Board members are espected to consider a $13.6 million resolution.

To talk village hall

LINCOLNSHIRE—Lincolnshire Village Board members will be discussing a contract with an architect firm for the proposed public safety-administration building. Village Manager Dave Limardi said the cost of the contract has not yet been determined but Nagel, Hartray & Assoc. will be paid a percentage of the costs. The hearing will be held at the Spectrum Office Centre, 175 Olde Half Day Rd. at 8 p.m.

Boating accidents

CHAIN OF LAKES—James Hartman, 29, of Waukesha, Wis., died in Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry last week after falling into the water while kneeboarding on Grass Lake. Hartman was wearing a life jacket. The McHenry coroner's office has scheduled an autopsy. Five additional people were hospitalized with burns following a small explosion when gasoline fumes in the bilge of a 28-foot cabin cruiser were ignited when the bilge pump was activated on Lake Bluff last week.

Pet Memorial Day

MUNDELEIN—The Narrowood Pet Cemetery will hold its traditional Pet Memorial Day program on Sept. 23, 1990 beginning at 2 p.m. The program will include blessing of the animals, a humane education discussion on the emotional needs of pets, a demonstration of "college educated" dogs, and entertainment by Alan Rothacker and his amazing Dobermans. Pets and their human attendees are invited for refreshments also. The Narrowood Pet Cemetery is located at 24090 Highway 45, Mundelein.

11 want to be chief

MUNDELEIN—Eleven applications have been received for the job fire chief, including one from Acting Chief Randy Justus. Deadline is Wednesday, Aug. 15. The mayor is expected to name a new chief in September to succeed Edward Kalasa, who resigned in May under mysterious circumstances.

New fire chief

LAKE ZURICH—Just two weeks after welcoming Scott Ratter, the new village administrator, Lake Zurich officials hired a new fire chief last Monday. Terry Mastandrea, 31, begins duties as director of emergency services and fire chief on Aug. 20. He replaces Acting Fire Chief Dave Wheelock, who was appointed in April, after Keith MacIssac left to work as fire chief in Wheeling. Mastandrea, who has a business degree from Lewis University in Romeoville, has 14 years experience in fire service. He worked the last years with the Skokie Fire Dept., where he served as shift commander for the past year and lieutenant for five years prior to that. He resides in Lake Zurich, with his wife, Murlene. They have two children, Ryan, 4 and Ashley, 2. They are expecting their third child in February.

Board votes raise

GRAYSLAKE—The Grayslake Board of Trustees have voted to approve compensation increases for future village officials. According to the vote, the next mayor will receive $5,000 a year, plus $1,000 a year to act as liquor commissioner. The next group of trustees to be voted in will receive $1,200 a year, plus $15 per assigned meeting, and the next village clerk will receive $75 per meeting. The current planning commission will receive an immediate raise, earning $30 per meeting.

New post office

LIBERTYVILLE—A two-year delay in constructing a new post office ended this week with the opening of bids on a five-acre facility on the southeast side of the village along New Car Row. Construction is scheduled to start this fall and be completed in one year. The $4.5 million facility will double the size of the current post office on Church St. in the downtown area, provide 50 more parking spaces and double the number of post office boxes. The current post office will be offered to other U.S., state and county agencies.

Unique designing

Basil combines all aspects of interior design

by STEPHANIE ENGLE
Lakeland Newspapers

Redesigning a home is a tedious and complicated process that involves a lot of time, money and people. But Bill Basil of B.H. Better Homes in Libertyville combines all aspects of remodeling into one service.

"Working with one person is better than dealing with many, and that cuts costs," Basil says.

He combines the work of plumbers, electricians, designers and constructors all into one by drafting one design that details all the work.

"This way, the plumbers and electricians are all working off one design," Basil explains. "This way, nothing can go wrong - everything works together."

Basil himself oversees the entire remodeling project, which includes tearing out of the old materials, constructing the new designs and checking everything once it is done. In addition, Basil does all the designing himself.

However, Basil says he is much more than an interior designer.

"I work with atmosphere as well as colors and patterns. I try to capture the feelings the customers are looking for," Basil says.

He takes a lot of pride in the fact he works closely with his clients.

"I spend a lot of time talking with the people, determining the most that can be done with the amount of money they want to spend. We work together from beginning to end. Once we determine what they want, then I sit down and create," he explains.

And create he does. Basil designs everything from round cabinets to custom-built bathroom vanities in all the latest colors and patterns. He is also very interested in making the most of space by playing with mirrors and furniture arrangements.

Some of Basil's creations are on display at his store located at 602 N. Milwaukee Ave. in Libertyville. He also displays all his materials in the store in a manner unique to interior design offices. All his patterns, carpet samples and tiles are hung along the walls of the store so people of all ages and heights can reach them.

Basil has had many years of experience in the interior design industry. Beginning in 1958, Basil worked in Athens, Greece in the commercial and design industry. In 1961 he moved to Switzerland where he continued his work. And in 1970, he moved to Chicago.

However, he did not start B.H. Better Homes, Inc. until 1987 in Schaumberg and he just moved the store to Libertyville this year.

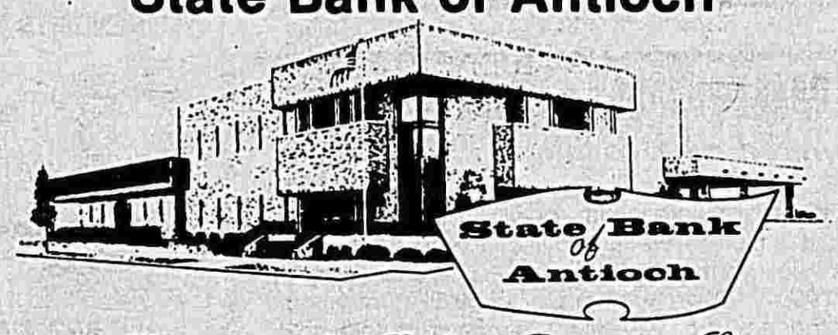

Basil brags that all his materials are on the premises.

"We have tiles, carpets, furniture, mirrors and free-standing fireplaces all right here," he says.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

The 1990s dawned with headlines full of bad news. Junk bonds were proving to be junk, and inflation was on its way back up.

The 1980s began with an equally dim outlook. But by the end of 1989, the Dow had tripled and the average return on equities during the decade was over 17.5 percent.

The lesson to be learned here is, don't buy bad headlines. Money isn't made on the stock market; it's made on the success of the businesses whose stock we purchase.

The National Association of Investors Corporation, epitomizes the validity of this statement. Forty to 60 percent of its members regularly outearn the Standard & Poor's 500 Index. They achieve this success with a strategy based on three major convictions.

First, stocks have historically been one of the most profitable investments available.

Second, members are convinced stocks will continue to move to new highs.

Finally, NAIC members practice continuing education.

These may sound like lofty ideals, but the NAIC has shown them to be practical guidelines that work.

You can learn more about NAIC by writing P.O. Box 220, Royal Oak, MI 48068.

Navy selects Lakeland to publish Bulletin

Lakeland Newspapers has been granted a four-year contract to publish the Great Lakes Bulletin.

Great Lakes Commander Rear Admiral James Partington announced that Lakeland was chosen for the printing job Tuesday.

The Great Lakes Bulletin has a circulation of 18,000 and is distributed at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center. The writing for the weekly publication is done by Navy personnel and Lakeland will assist in composition and advertising sales. The new contract begins with the first issue in November.

"There was a lot of stiff competition, but Lakeland had the overall superior package," Captn. Steve Millikin, chief of staff at Great Lakes, said.

"I have complete confidence and faith in Lakeland that they will do a fine job," Partington said.

"I am pleased and proud that we are going to publish the Great Lakes Bulletin," William H. Schroeder, publisher of Lakeland Newspapers, said.

William M. Schroeder, operations manager at Lakeland Newspapers, thanked Display Advertising Manager Jill DePasquale and William H. Schroeder for their assistance in putting together a presentation for Navy personnel.

The Great Lakes Naval Training Center is home to the largest training center in the world and has 35,000 on-base personnel.

Several area publishing firms sought the contract. These included: the Daily Herald, Pioneer Press, News Voice and Kenosha News.

Lakeland Newspapers, which publishes 15 weekly newspapers in Lake, McHenry and Kenosha counties, had earlier published the Bulletin until 1984.

Navy personnel had inspected operations of those bidding on the contract before it was awarded.

? Must Employers Pay For Travel Time?

THE ILLINOIS CHAMBER

A Question From The Illinois Chamber HELPLINE

Q. Does my business have to pay for travel time when I send one of my non-exempt employees to a meeting out of town?

A. Travel time is considered work time if it occurs within the individual's normal working time, even if it occurs on what would usually be a day off. For example, if your employee works 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, you would be required to pay for travel time spent between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., even if the employee travels on Saturday or Sunday.

IF EMPLOYERS WOULD LIKE MORE INFORMATION ON THIS AND OTHER CHAMBER SERVICES, CALL 312-372-7373.

Sandwiches, salads tops at Patty's Monarch Cafe

Like the beautiful, happy Monarch butterfly, the Monarch Cafe in Grayslake, which has the butterfly as its logo, has a colorful motif done in mauve and seafoam green.

Owner Patty Anderson, who is originally from New Jersey, moved to Lake County in 1978 and her many years of experience in the food service business prompted the opening of her own sandwich shop at 1814 Belvidere Rd. in the Country Faire Plaza.

The Monarch has ample seating with 13 tables for four and eight stools at the counter.

Deli sandwiches, salads and party trays are the Monarch's specialties.

The Monarch is known throughout the area for its cheese steak sandwich made with thin beefsteak topped with onions, green peppers and melted cheese, served on a delicious hoagie bun.

Beer and wine are available for those who wish to imbibe while downing one of Patty's delectable treats.

Appealing to the entire family, the Monarch offers video games and a play area, complete with a playhouse and slide for the children to enjoy.

Prices for a meal at the Monarch range from $1.99 to $3.99.

The Monarch Cafe is open six days a week, Monday through Saturday, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Patty's also working for an associate degree in food service at the College of Lake County.

Film Review

Harrison Ford is one of the most popular and best actors around with big movie credits like the Indiana Jones series and "Working Girl" under his belt.

In his latest film "Presumed Innocent," Ford turns in a good, but not great performance as a prosecutor being tried for the murder of his former mistress. But the way the script is written, good is about all that Ford can glean out of what he has to work with.

Many reviewers are claiming that director Alan J. Pakula has kept the suspense of the Scott Turow novel of the same name in tact.

The best thing Ford does is keep his portrayal fluctuating between leading the audience to think he could be guilty one minute, to opening a good possibility of innocence the next.

Bonnie Bedelia turns in a more than creditable performance as Ford's wife.

The ending is a lulu! We'll give "Innocent" a 3.5 on the strength of the many suspenseful moments.

Be There

Calling all you fish-eating gourmets! The fish boil is served every Wednesday and Friday evening, from 6 to 9 p.m.

The Millburn Gallery will host an art fair for the Lakes Region Watercolor Guild on Sunday, Aug. 19, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Many of the guild's 50 members, from both Illinois and Wisconsin, will be participating in the outdoor fair, which will be held on the picturesque grounds of the gallery in Millburn. Raindate is Aug. 26.

Getting ready for competition
Young riders like Lara Dellaripa, 19, will be competing at the 1990 North American Young Riders' Championships, from Aug. 14-19, at Tempel Farms, Wadsworth. Dellaripa and her horse, Saxon, won the Three-Day-Event Championship at the 1989 competition.

Young Riders in saddle Aug. 14

The nation's best young equestrians will be competing in events at the 1990 North American Young Riders' Championships, at Tempel Farms in Wadsworth from Aug. 14 to 19.

The competition is sponsored by the American Bankers Insurance Co., Miami, Fla.

In this competition, this country's youthful riders will get their first taste of international competition.

According to AHSA President James Wofford, " This event is the proving ground for up and coming equestrians in the Olympic disciplines."

Wofford: "This event is a proving ground for up and coming equestrians with their first taste of international competition."

It was at early Young Riders' competitions that young equestrians like Greg Best, silver medalist in the 1988 Olympics, and Molly Bliss, who will represent the United States at the World Equestrian Games in Stockholm, Sweden this summer, made their debuts.

Kim Keenan, the 1989 winner at the North American Dressage Championships, is now competing in Europe.

Over 100 riders from all over the world will gather to compete in this three-day-event.

The Young Riders is presented by the International Equestrian Federation and the American Horse Shows Assn., the national equestrian federation of the United States.

Highlights of the event will include cross country jumping over ditches, water and banks; fluid, rythmic, gymnastic-like movements of dressage horses; show jumping and a performance by the Tempel Farms' Lipizzans.

'Chorus Line' could be start of something big

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

Following close behind the closing of the longest running musical on Broadway, "Chorus Line," the Elgin Summer Theatre has cast 40 young people from all over the Chicagoland area in its upcoming production of the most popular musical ever.

Sixteen-year-old Bethany Powis of Wauconda will be playing the part of Connie, the girl who is "four-foot 10 inches tall."

Bethany, the daughter of Carol and Earl Powis, although listed as one of the "players" is not just playing around. She wants show business to be her lifetime career.

Bethany comes by her musical inclinations naturally, with her father being a vocal music teacher for kindergarten through sixth grade classes at Central Road School in Rolling Meadows.

Bethany: 'Between working a summer job and rehearsing three to four hours a night, I'm really learning how hectic show business can be."

"They think I have a lot of ambition, but want me to make sure I have something to fall back on and not just concentrate on the entertainment field," said Bethany.

One can see a more serious education tendency in the Powis family with brother Mark in medical school and sister Heather in nurses' training.

But Bethany is still looking at colleges like Northwestern University and Indiana, two of the top training spots for those who want to see their name in lights on some marquee.

She has also been preparing for a show business career by appearing in musicals done by the Pullman Players in Wauconda and the Elgin Summer Theatre.

Bethany played Cha Cha in Pullman's production of "Grease" and Graziella in Elgin's "West Side Story."

"I know you have to be a triple threat in today's theater so I'll be working on the acting end as well as taking vocal and dancing lessons," she adds.

Meanwhile, with "Chorus" set for the Elgin stage on Aug. 10, 11, 17 and 18, Bethany is at rehearsal four nights a week for three to four hours after working her "real" summer job at Kentucky Fried Chicken in Lake Zurich, getting a taste of how hectic show business can be.

In the most famous 'Chorus'

The Elgin Summer Theatre has cast 40 young people from all over the Chicagoland area in its production of 'Chorus Line' with show dates, Aug. 10,11,17 and 18. Rehearsing show are, from left, Cindy Hinners, Roselle, Bethany Powis, Wauconda, Chris Engel, Elgin, and Helen O'Kaine, Burlington.

Post vacation blues- how to handle them

by JIM WARNKEN
President, North Star Travel, Inc.

It's Monday morning and you're back to work. Only yesterday you were laying on the beach in Hawaii. You should feel relaxed, refreshed and ready to go back to work. Instead you feel sort of blah. You're not only tired, but unable to concentrate. It may be jetlag, but most likely you have a case of "post-vacation depression."

Post-vacation depression is brought on by both physical and psychological factors. Each must be understood and dealt with if we are to return to work with a clear mind. (Actually, I think we should all just remain on vacation, but I guess that's not practical.)

The physical factors which contribute to this depression are not, in most cases, the late nights of partying while on vacation, but just the opposite. Most people get more sleep than they normally get at home. They usually get more exercise. I know I find myself taking the car the two blocks to the post office at home, but I'll walk miles exploring a foreign city.

So why doesn't your body feel refreshed after all that good treatment? Your mind has told your body it's home again and get ready for that poor food, 12-hour work days and five hours of sleep!

The psychological factors are usually that you've had a chance to get away from your structured, predictable day and experience the uncertainty and excitement a vacation brings. Now it's back to the same old routine. What can you do to ease back into the work schedule?

Come back a day early. Read your mail, pay your bills, do laundry.

-Schedule a least one fun thing to do the week after your vacation.

-Continue the physical exercise you started on your vacation.

-Don't try to catch up on all your work the first day back. It will only heighten any depression.

If your depression lasts, turn it into something positive. Learn from what made you feel good on your vacation. Relax more. Get more exercise. Be more spontaneous. Eat better. Have more fun. We take a vacation to have fun; there is no reason we can't carry that into our work lives.

Annie's buffet

At Annie's Country Kitchen, found at the Americana Lake Geneva Resort, Sunday brunch, Friday seafood buffet and Saturday's Italian buffet offer guests of the resort and area residents good food and a gala resort atmosphere.

Annie's Country Kitchen popular spot at Americana

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

Annie's Country Kitchen is one of the many food spas featured at the Americana Lake Geneva Resort, on Hwy. 50, just east of Lake Geneva.

Dining in Early American comfort, Annie's customers can enjoy the view that overlooks the indoor and outdoor pools and one of the Americana's two 18-hole golf courses, while dining on one of Chef Ross's specialties.

According tothe resorts's food and beverage manager, John Gabriel, a favorite of both guests of the resort and area residents is Annie's outstanding Sunday brunch which is served from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. every week. The popularity of the brunch breeds the necessity for previous reservations.

Besides serving breakfast every day from 7 to 11:30 a.m., other popular events at Annie's are the Friday night seafood buffet and the Saturday night Italian buffet that features succulent prime rib. The seafood buffet is $9.95 for adults and $5.95 for children under 12. For those who love Italian food, Saturday's buffet is priced at $12.95 for adults and $5.95 for children under 12.

Originally built in the 1960s under Hugh Heffner's Playboy banner, the resort was bought by Americana Hotels in 1982 and in 1988, J.M.B. Realty took over the 1,400 acre resort that boasts of two championship golf courses, rated in the top 10 courses in the State of Wisconsin and in the top 50 in the country.

Kahoots, with its deejay and the sports bar are other favorite gathering spots at the Americana.

The resort also offers banquet facilities with a capacity to feed 1,200 people, as well as attractive meeting rooms for businesses conducting meetings and seminars.

A cool, colorful salad is the perfect answer to summer's sizzling heat. And pasta salads top the list as everyone's favorite. Perfect summer salads should be good tasting and easy to prepare, especially important for those of us who are more apt to "assemble" meals rather than cook during the week.

Easy to assemble Smoked Turkey Pasta Salad meets the requirements for a perfect pasta salad. It's made with Romance™ pasta, the only fresh microwaveable pasta on the market. Ready to toss with other salad ingredients after just two minutes in the microwave, Romance pastas are perfect for summer, not heating up the kitchen, no waiting for water to boil, no stirring.

Just before serving time, toss the cooked Spinach Ravioli with smoked turkey breast from the deli, and a homemade Dijon mustard vinaigrette. Add a cool drink and fresh fruit or sorbet for a complete meal.

Smoked turkey pasta salad

1 package (10 oz.) Romance spinach ravioli
1/2 cup olive oil
1/3 cup Dijon-style mustard
1 Tbl. white wine vinegar
dash each salt and pepper
1 lb. smoked turkey breast, cubed
1/2 cup chopped Italian parsley
3 Tbls. slivered red onion.
Salad greens

Prepare ravioli as directed on package. In a small bowl, whisk together oil, mustard, vinegar and seasonings. Pour dressing over ravioli; mix lightly. Cool. Add turkey, parsley and onion to ravioli mixture; mix lightly. Server on salad greens.

Makes four servings.

Slate steam show

During the show there will be horse-pulled wagons loaded by the bundle pitchers and brought from the field to the threshing machine where the wheat and straw are separated. Several rigs will be set up with steam engines for power as well as several old time gas and kerosene tractors.

In addition a steam powered saw mill operates daily cutting huge logs into lumber.

Plans are completed for the 34th Annual Steam Show and threshing bee to be held at the Taylor Marshall Farm, Sycamore, ILL., Aug. 9, 10, 11 and 12.

The annual show differs from many other shows in that the farm owner is contracted to sow the wheat. When ripe, it is cut, bound into bundles, and stacked into shocks.

The show opens at 7 a.m., running to 6 p.m. daily with a parade at 1:30 p.m.

Admission for adults is $2.50, children under 12 free. There is free parking. On Thursday, senior citizens admission if $1. The show is sponsored by the Northern Illinois Steam Power Club, a not for profit organization.

HANDY HINTS

Agency or Association certification indicates the manufacturer is producing his product to a recognized industry standard. Materials bearing Agency or Association stamps are independently inspected and tested to ensure industry standards are met.

Mill certification simply indicates the material meets the manufacturing mill's standards—which may or may not meet industry standards.

When structural integrity is important, specify Agency or Association graded materials. The Wisconsin Uniform Building Code requires Agency certified materials for residential use. Some area suppliers carry less-expensive mill certified materials. Know the difference. Big Buck's trained staff will answer your questions, or consult your local building inspector.

Re-roofing Guide

1. New roof or Re-Roof? First task is to decide whether the old roof must come off. From inside attic inspect for leaks, loose boards, or rotted wood. Make replacements if necessary. Check layers of existing shingles at edge of roof. Two layers of shingles for each roofing job, i.e. four layers equals two roofs. Beyond two roofs check with local building inspector for weight and code limitations. If you have original roof and shingles don't show too much cracking and curling, you can probably reroof over existing shingles.

2. Buying Roofing Shingles are sold in "bundles", three bundles equal 100 sq. ft. of roof area or a "square". Bring in your roof dimensions and Big Buck's trained staff will estimate your shingle needs. Unopened bundles are returnable. 1½ roofing nails are used for re-roofing over asphalt shingles, estimate 320 nails per square.

3. Do-It-Yourself Big Buck has handy do-it-yourself installation guides. Use asphalt or fiberglass shingles. Ask our staff about proper attic ventilation. Ask questions, read the literature, then proceed with confidence!

Attic Vents

Proper attic ventilation is important to prevent dangerous moisture build-up and very high summer temperatures.

American Rose

It's got traditional charm. It's got contemporary class. And it's got all of the features most popular with modern homebuyers. It's the American Rose.

With only the two bedrooms and a bathroom upstairs, this medium sized home is equally well adapted to a family with older children, or empty nesters who wish to have space to accommodate grandchildren, and to entertain without feeling cramped. Built over a full basement, the possibilities for expanding storage and living spaces are practically endless.

Stepping into the high vaulted entryway, the first impression is one of vastness. This area, and the formal living room, are both vaulted to the second floor. In fact, the landing at the top of the curving stairway, overlooks the living room.

Another area that gives the impression of spaciousness is the kitchen, and the area is also delightfully bright, with both a garden window and a bay window. Whole families of cooks can work together in this area without bumping elbows or getting ingredients mixed up. The upper of the double ovens in the nook has microwave capabilities and in addition to the pantry, there are also plenty of cupboards.

This design makes excellent use of oddly shaped spaces. A hutch is tucked into an angle in the dining room, a fireplace in another in the family room, and a small angled half bath is conveniently close to everything.

The master suite has an oversized tub, which could just as easily be a spa, and a shower, both brightened by a skylight and glass blocks. A sliding door provides privacy, and steam containment, for the shower and toilet. Double sinks are outside this area, close to the walk-in closet.

For the many people who find they are doing at least some of their work at home, these days, this design includes an office, close to the master suite.

The utility room has all the amenities: laundry sink, appliances, fold-down ironing board and a window-lit shelf that looks out onto the front porch. The two-car garage includes extra space for a workbench and/or storage space.

For a study plan of the AMERICAN ROSE (330-99), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Social opportunities multiply, but business and friendship do not mix favorably. Weekend travel will prove beneficial. Expect some favorable financial or career developments now. Tension with a close tie will be alleviated by week's end. Compromise.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Travel should be a lot of fun now, but watch dietary indiscretions. A loved one showers attention on you. Enjoy yourself. You'll receive a valuable work lead. Investment hunches are on the money. The temptation to overextend credit must be checked.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You'll have a wonderful time with a romantic interest, but a relative will feel left out if not included in your plans. Excitement about a work project keeps you busy now, but don't push beyond your limits. Luck is with you in domestic affairs.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Save time for hobbies and recreational pursuits. A local visit has romantic overtones. Take no risks with money today. Slight tension exists with a family member. You'll find something that delights you if shopping now. Financial gain is likely.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You'll receive happy news, but don't gossip. A short trip or a cultural activity will bring you much pleasure. You'll be pleased about financial developments, but you shouldn't lend money to a friend. Save for a rainy day.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Put career concerns aside and enjoy happy times with friends. You may be invited to a gala event. By all means accept! You won't take kindly to interruptions. Enthusiasm about a career development keeps you happily engaged making further plans.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Money is a touchy topic with a friend. It's best to keep your good fortune to yourself, as others will be envious. Trust your intuition on the job. A slight difference with a loved one will be overcome. Don't mix business and social life.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A revised career plan is for the better. Be careful of detail now. Your glib tongue could offend someone now. Children could get on your nerves. Find some time for peace and quiet. You are busy entertaining guests from out of town.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Nagging will result if you keep putting off a task. Later, join loved ones in a recreational pursuit. It will be difficult to concentrate on work until you rectify a difference with a close tie. Pick up the phone and say you're sorry.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Don't spoil a good time by arguing about costs. Children respond to gentleness. Put the finishing touches on a creative project. Be less critical of a family member. Evenings favor the enjoyment of hobbies and romance, but watch indiscreet actions.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Watch your tongue. Misunderstandings could occur with others. Domestic interests are highlighted. Spend more time with family. You may feel a friend is inconsiderate. Avoid money disputes now. Evening hours are the best for socializing.

PISCES (February 18 to March 20) You'll have the chance to meet some interesting but unusual acquaintances. Avoid quibbling with relatives about trifles. It's not a good time to seek advice, especially about creative work. You'll savor privacy now. Don't abuse credit.

a dash of nutmeg or cloves

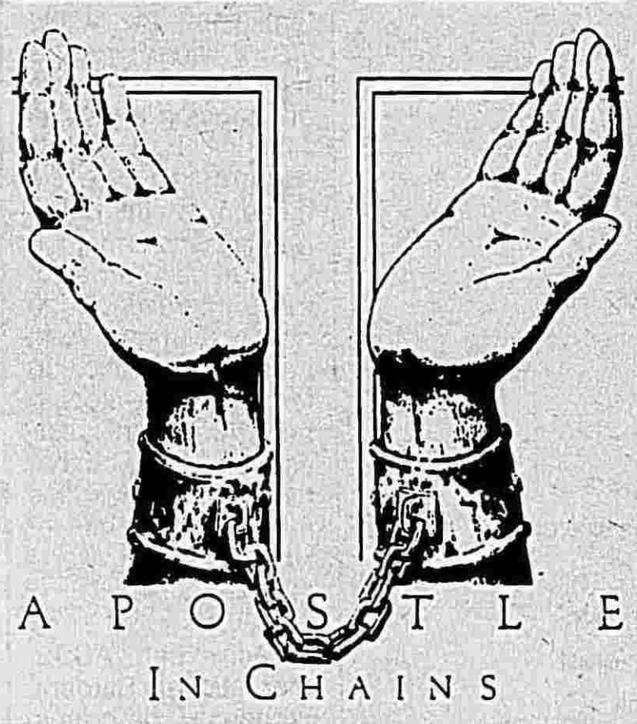

Cut squash down the middle, either cross-wise or horizontally. Scoop the pulp, leaving a 1/2-inch shell. Combine the squash pulp with onions, cheese, salt, paprika, nutmeg. Stir and cook these ingredients until hot. Remove from the heat. Add:

1 beaten egg
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs

Rub the squash shells with butter or drippings. Fill them with the stuffing. Place them in an ovenproof dish. Cover the bottom with 1/8 inch water or stock. Bake the squashes until tender, about 20 to 25 minutes, depending on their size.

A $62,000 success

The Ninth Annual Saint Therese Golf Outing at Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth raised $62,000 to benefit the STAR Hospice. More than 190 golfers participated in the event and 250 people attended the dinner. Red Anderson, left, Lake County treasurer, and Father James Merold, director of Pastoral Care at Saint Therese Medical Center, celebrate the success of the outing.

State's Attorney questions Lakemoor annexation

Opponents of a proposed regional shopping mall may be seeing another glimmer of hope for stopping the building of the mall now that the Lake County State's Attorney's office has objected to Lakemoor's annexation of land for the mall site.

The formal "quo warranto" complaint asks the Lake County Circuit Court nullify Lakemoor's annexation of the 260-acre mall site in rural Lake and McHenry counties, declaring the annexation invalid and citing a lack of signatures of area residents on the annexation petition.

The annexation petition was OK'ed by the Lakemoor Village Board earlier this year.

According to the state's attorney's complaint, the mandated signatures of 51 percent of Lakemoor's electors were not on the petition and only the signature of one of the four property owners living on the annexed land was on the petition.

This signature was that of Gordon Slade, who has entered into a sale agreement with the mall developers, Homart Development Co., for the sale of 159 acres of his land.

The village board has 30 days to reply to the complaint.

Legal proceedings could follow, leaving the Lakemoor Board with a choice of admitting to making a mistake, which would automatically void the annexation, or fighting the state's attorney's contention.

The approaching election has also given opponents renewed hope since four of the six trustees that approved the annexation will be up for reelection.

Vergis gets a kick out of new role with Vikes

One thing you can say about football players.

There is something about them that keeps them coming back for more.

Such was the case for Lake County Vikings' Tom Vergis. Vergis overcame a broken leg while playing for the New Jersey Generals of the now defunct United States Football League.

"I had the itch to play again," Vergis said during Saturday's game with the Chicago Panthers.

Vergis, a Mundelein resident, had just given the Vikings a 7-6 lead with a perfect point-after-touchdown kick in the first quarter. The kick came after a blocked field goal try by Chicago resulted in an 80-yard touchdown run by the Vikings' Michael Wade. The highlight and lead for the Vikings was short-lived at Libertyville's Butler Lake Park as the Panthers took over from there for a 26-7 win. The loss gave the Vikings a 1-1 record for the pre-season.

Vergis, a Mundelein resident, knows his role on the team is to compliment punter Chris Fredrik. "I find it more difficult to do both because I have to change my shoe," Vergis, a straight-on style kicker, said.

Fortunately for the Vikings, the only thing that was in mid-season form was the weather. A stiff breeze and overcast sky made the windchill a factor as Viking faithful brought the blankets out the first Sunday in August.

The Vikings knew early this would not be their day. Most of the starting defensive linemen - Charlie William, Rich Jones, Dennis Lane and Al Plocht were not in the starting lineup due to illness or injury. "We had to use offensive linemen as defensive linemen and linebackers. The changing positions just killed us," Vikings owner Rick Starosta said.

The loss also did not bring out a leader in the starting quarterback derby. Offensive coordinator Sam Toia started, and Elmer Smith and Round Lake's Walter Tesch played as well. "We did not do anything offensively," Starosta said.

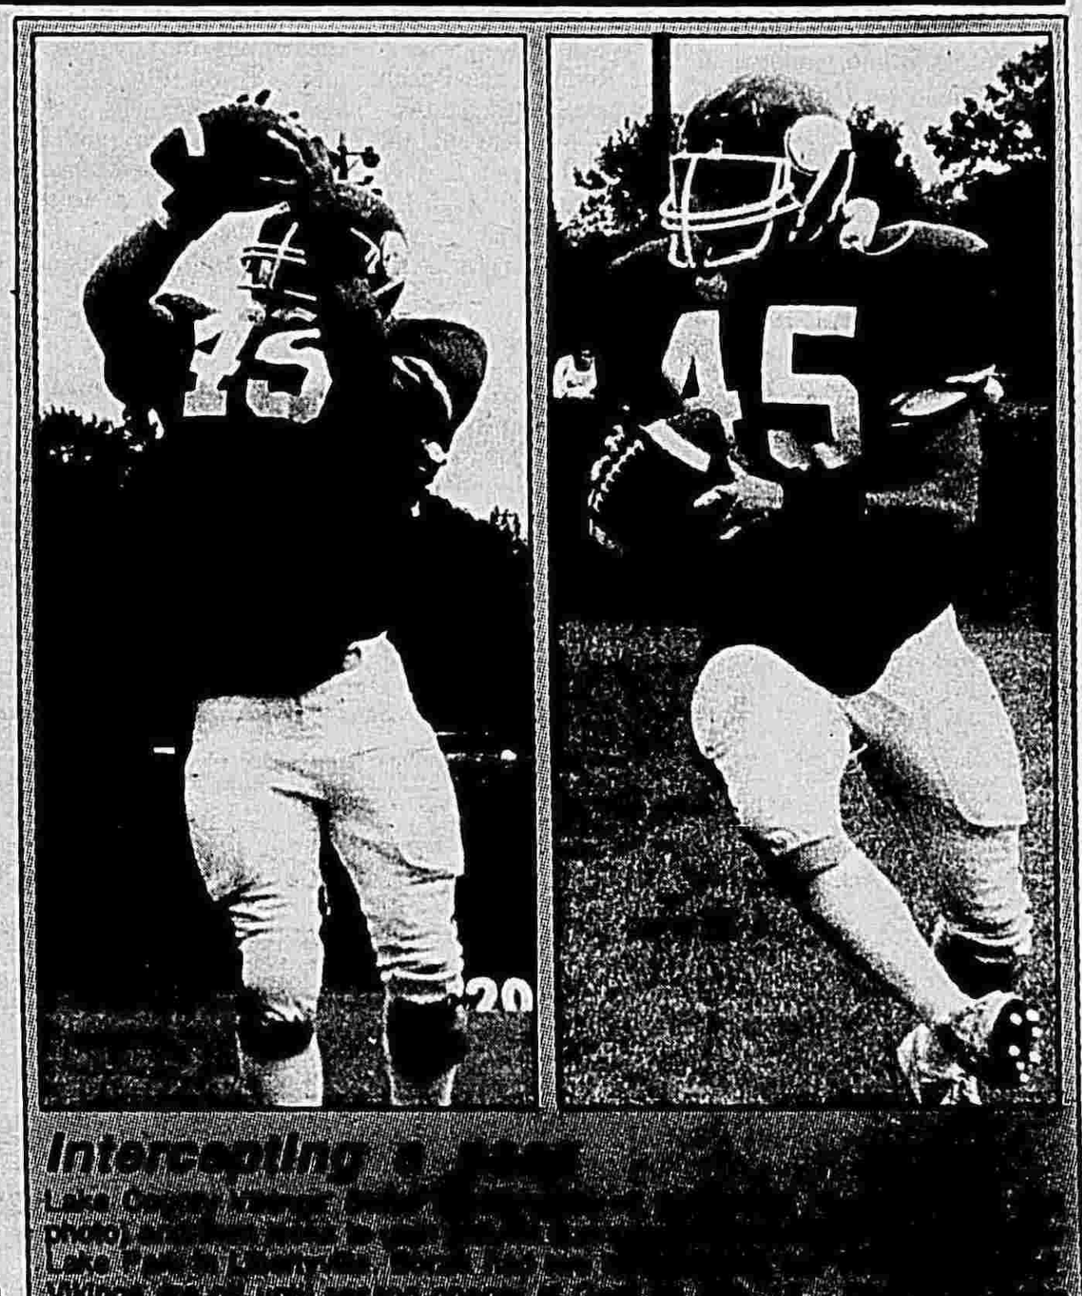

The Panthers, who had lost to Milwaukee a week earlier, had almost 300 yards rushing in the first half. "We had much more consistency," Coach Don Albrecht said.

Chicago scored on the opening drive in just three plays. A long run by Bill Baines set up a 32 yard touchdown pass from QB Bill Walsh to Ernest Williams.

Then came Wade's touchdown.

Despite playing in unfamiliar positions, the defense settled down, until the final minute of the first half.

QB Walsh capped a drive with a one-yard scamper which sent the visitors ahead for good at 12-7.

Fort Wayne tournament squad's next challenge

Look out, Connecticut.

Look out, Tawiian.

Here comes Mundelein.

Yes, a team of 13-year olds from Mundelein may be ready to challenge the world of junior baseball as the squad has advanced to regional level.

The Mundelein team won the Illinois tournament in Rock Falls with an 8-0 win over the host team to advance to this week's regionals in Fort Wayne, Ind. The team faced Ohio in the first contest Tuesday.

"We played very good defense, had outstanding pitching and timely hitting," Coach Larry Trivina said.

Trivina said the team is taking a "one game at a time" attitude as it progresses along the tournament trail.

Most of the team were members of the 12-year old all-star team from Mundelein last year, while a few competed for the Vernon Hills Eagles squad. The nucleus of the Mundelein team includes: Steve Witcraft, Paul Stauss, Joel Kochanski, Chris Happ, Matt Trivina, Keith Seimbal, Todd Graham, Ryan Clark, Chad Repp, Brian McMahon and Eric Tonkery.

Also on the team were: Todd Graham and Mike Jannotta, who played for the Vernon Hills Eagles, and Pat Goodwin.

Gridiron practices near

Will Carmel High School make it back to the quarterfinal round of the playoffs?

Will Grayslake and North Chicago make it to the playoffs for the second year in a row?

Will 1990 bring another record year of playoff entries for Lake County teams?

Will new coaches at Mundelein and Wacuonda enjoy successful starts?

The answers to these questions and more will begin to unfold next week as football players report to fall pre-season training camp on Aug. 13.

At Antioch Community High School for examnle. the first week of practice will mean double sessions for the players. The first few days of practice are non-contact.

Players at all schools will need physicals in order to participate.

For most teams, the summer has been spent in seven-on-seven passing leagues, at Wauconda and Woodstock, as well as weight-lifting programs.

Antioch Coach Del Pechauer said the Sequoits were given last week off after participating in the Wauconda league. "This year we were able to have all the players there that will play. In the past, we have had to play sophomores in the league," he said.

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By
Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: What is glaucoma? Can it cause blindness?

ANSWER: Glaucoma results from excessive pressure on the optic nerve in the back of the eye, created by excessive build-up of the natural fluid inside the eye. It's the second leading cause of blindness among people over the age of 40. Fortunately, with early diagnosis and treatment this problem can, almost always be controlled and blindness prevented.

The fluid keeps the eye from collapsing. As fresh fluid is produced, the excess drains out through a meshwork of tissue. If this drainage path is blocked, pressure builds and begins to damage the optic nerve which carries visual images from the eye to the brain. Gradually, peripheral or side vision is lost. Eventually the glaucoma victim can only see straight ahead through "tunnel vision." Over time all sight may be lost. Previous damage cannot be reversed but when glaucoma is diagnosed it can be treated with eye drops or medication. If this is not successful, laser surgery may be used to open up the tissue to provide proper fluid drainage.

Action Line by fred bigham

Dear Action Line,

My neighbor recently started a compost pile in the back of his yard. What is he dumping back there? Is it safe?

Worried Neighbor

Dear Worried Neighbor,

There shouldn't be anything to worry about. Composting is the wave of the future in Lake County as yard waste can no longer be dumped in the same places as regular garbage.

The major items going into compost pile are yard waste such as grass clippings and small twigs or branches. Some people are getting there own chippers and chopping up larger branches into wood chips and this is O.K. also.

In addition, you can also put in kitchen waste, within reason. By this I mean peelings and thing like that.

You should not compost meat, chemicals or metal.

I checked around with a few villages and the county and there are very few government bodies that are even thinking of regulating compost piles so common sense will be the rule. If you go "over the line" with what you are composting you may get a ticket from the local or county building inspectors, so don't put in that car battery or old refrigerator, they don't "biodegrade" very well.

ACTION LINE is Lakeland Newspapers' way of helping our readers with problems involving government agencies. If you can't get a government agency to respond to your problem, write to ACTION LINE, c/o Lakeland Newspapers, 30 S. Whitney, Grayslake, IL 60030, and let us give it a try.

Teich postcard display earns honor for museum

The Lake County Museum's Curt Teich Postcard Archives has won a Certificate of Commendation award from the American Society for State and Local History (AASLH) for its "Views from America's Past" book series of reproduction postcards.

Since 1988, the Curt Teich Postcard Archives, has cooperatively published five books in the "Views from America's Past" series with the National Trust for Historic Preservation's publishing division, the Preservation Press. Focusing on reproduction postcard views from 20th Century North America, including diners and other roadside structures, art deco buildings, amusement parks, movie palaces, the boardwalks, and attractions of the seaside, the books have been best sellers for the National Trust.

Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. members saw a video on the postcard collection and then passed a resolution honoring Teich at its last meeting.

The AASLH Awards program is the nation's most prestigious competition for achievement in the preservation and interpretation of local and regional history. It is designed to encourage standards of excellence by focusing attention on the achievements of individuals and organizations in the history field.

"The competition is extremely rigorous," said Rutg Truitt, assistant executive director of the Illinois State Historical Society. The award will be presented in Washington D.C. at AASLH's 50th anniversary meeting.

In 1989, the "Views from America's Past" series won the Award of Superior Achievement from the Congress of Illinois Historical Societies and Museums, and honorable mention in the Southern Books Competition sponsored by the Southeastern Libraries Assn.

"The quality of work produced by the Lake County Museum is very high. We should take great pride in its growing list of achievements," C. Richard Anderson, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., said.

For more information on the Curt Teich Postcard Collection and the postcard reproduction books, call (708) 526-8638.

The Lake County Museum is located in the Lakewood Forest Preserve on Rte. 176 outside of Wauconda. The museum is open daily from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

WHAT'S WRONG AT THE NEWS-SUN?

Why are News-Sun employees urging readers to pledge to cancel their News-Sun subscriptions?

Why are News-Sun employees urging shoppers to stay away from News-Sun advertisers?

News-Sun workers in Waukegan, Libertyville and Lake Villa have been struggling to win a fair contract from Copley Press, the California owner of the newspapers, for two years.

Last April, Copley Press representatives walked out of contract talks with its employees, members of Local 71 of The Newspaper Guild (AFL-CIO).

The company walked out despite major employee concessions and despite the fact that progress was being made.

Although employees haven't had a pay raise in more than 2 years, wages were never a major issue in negotiations. Employees agreed to most of the company's major demands for "flexibility." Yet talks were unilaterally broken off by the company. The Guild believes Copley is trying to force a strike to break The Newspaper Guild at The News-Sun.

The day after walking out, Copley imposed new working conditions that reduced employee benefits, allowed the company to invade the private lives of employees and opened the way to eliminate full-time journalists.

We believe the imposed conditions will seriously reduce the quality of The News-Sun.

The Lake County Board and the Waukegan City Council both have urged Copley to return to the bargaining table and start negotiating in a fair way.

Employees are now seeking News-Sun reader support in this struggle. We are asking News-Sun subscribers to fill out the following form and mail it to The Newspaper Guild. The form authorizes cancellation of your News-Sun subscription, if necessary.

rmer Lake Zurich administrator

'ired Geick in line for new county job

JOSEPH SOULAK
eland Newspapers

ormer Lake Zurich Village Adminis- r Edward Geick last week resigned a lar post in Elkhorn, Wis., saying he become the first director of the Lake nty Stormwater Management mittee.

hat new program is a $10-million- undertaking to control and prevent ding throughout Lake County. The member committee (six County Board mbers, six representatives of munici- ties) will meet Wednesday, Aug. 15, onsider the appointment.

Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton is irman of the committee. He also serves the screening committee that has atively offered the $59,000-a-year job Geick.That decision has stirred up a met's nest of controversy.

"We checked Geick's references and nd them to be solid," Welton said of o to three names on each application ecked by Bob Chave of the Lake unty Planning Comm., committee fa- itator. "I feel he is a skilled ministrator with good education and ex- rience, who got into a political situa- n in Lake Zurich. Since this is a mocratic committee, the other members n decide to delay a decision or proceed th the hiring. There are always two es to every story. I am aware this man s his critics."

Geick was among 22 applicants for the b. The field was narrowed to four where ferences and background was checked.

Serving on the selection committee th Welton were Dist. 3 County Board mber Eleanor Rostron of Waukegan; ll Barrens, assistant county ministrator; Vern Swanson, a Deerfield gineer; and Thomas Schuster of the aukegan Park Dist.

Some board members say they will ask xt week that Geick's appointment be layed until questions about his back- und are cleared up.

"Although I don't know the man, I received lots of newspaper clippings and a few calls," said Dist. 4 County Board Member Suzi Schmidt, who sits on the stormwater committee. "Some have come from as far away as Theinsville, Wis., where Geick once served as administrator. It seems there are a lot of questions about this man. Since this is a new taxing body and we have to answer to the taxpayers I think we should sit down and analyze this."

Meanwhile, Geick has left his job of two months in Elkhorn, saying he has accepted a new job in Lake County. The resignation came less than one week after Geick had business cards printed with his title as Elkhorn city administrator.

The mayor of Elkhorn, who is in his first term, praised Geick's two months of service and indicated the resignation is a lateral move in terms of pay and responsibility. The Elkhorn city council screening committee is coming under criticism for not doing a better job of selecting a replacement for the former administrator, who retired. The council is headed by a new mayor and includes some new members.

Geick, who continues to live in Lake Zurich where he was village administrator for three years, commuted daily to Elkhorn.

Geick left his Lake Zurich job under pressure last February. He blamed it on politics of a new administration.

Mayor James Kay, who was elected to office on year ago last April, agreed to retain Geick because of the administrator's familiarity with local problems.

When Geick continued his own agenda Kay and his allies on the board voted to terminate the administrator's employment. His contract was bought out for $30,000 under terms of a sweetheart deal worked out by former Mayor Henry Paulus before he left office.

Adding to Geick's problems were sexual harassment charges, one of which involved Sharon Morris, former parks and recreation director. She claimed Geick touched her, made sexual comments about her and conducted a computerized sexual personality profile of her. Geick denied the charges. The village settled with Morris the same month after Geick left office for $85,000, including $15,000 in back pay.

Geick claims the suit was settled because he did not have the backing or confidence of the village board to pursue it further.

Geick also came under fire in Lake Zurich for an aggressive growth program at the request of some village trustees. This overloaded the village treatment plant and led to state sanctions against further sewer extensions.

Both Geick and the village say they cannot say anything about the administrator's past without violating terms of the settlement. But Geick has done just the opposite, insisting he was fired for political reasons.

With Geick's claim of politics surfacing, Kay this week issued the following statement:

"Recent media reports regarding the resignation of Edward Geick from his position as village administrator for Lake Zurich have included references to various issues facing the village and Geick at the time of his resignation, including a lawsuit filed by a former village employee for sexual harassment.

"Certain of those reports contain statements attributed to Mr. Geick implying the corporate authorities of the village were influenced in their decision making by 'political' motives rather than the need to fairly and efficiently address the serious issues facing it. Those implications are unfounded in fact and incorrect.

"The Morris settlement includes an agreement that the parties will refrain from making any statements about the terms of the settlement. The village also separately agreed with Mr. Geick that neither party would comment about the terms of his resignation as village administrator. Accordingly, the village will make no comment about the terms, either of the settlement or of the resignation, and trust that Mr. Geick will similarly honor these agreements by withholding further comment."

Lake County towns face resistance to control land

by DONNA DUNCAN
Lakeland Newspapers

Small town efforts to obtain an identity has sparked heated opposition.

As Gilmer and Volo seek incorporation as villages, they face protest by their neighbors, who do not want their potential to develop taken away.

Last week, a Lake County judge granted Long Grove and Hawthorn Woods leave to intervene in Gilmer's incorporation process. Another hearing has been set for sometime in September.

In related news, Lakemoor filed a petition opposing Volo's plan to incorporate, saying the plans are illegal. A hearing for this has been continued to Aug. 31.

Gilmer, with 510 residents, and Volo, with about 200, are taking advantage of a new amended state law that allows a small town to incorporate without the permission of villages within 1.5 miles away.

Attorneys representing both towns said the villages want to have more control over land use and receive their allotted share of motor fuel tax and sales tax.
